THE ASTROLOGICAL ASSOCIATION
SERVING THE FUTURE
52ND ANNUAL CONFERENCE
26-28 JUNE
2020
WYBOSTON LAKES, BEDFORDSHIRE, UK

FRIDAY 26TH JUNE

WORKSHOPS

Morning Workshops

Lynn Bell
Listening to the Daimon: the 12th house
12th house energies can be locked away or wildly out of control.The ancients called this the house of the kakos daimon, the Bad Daemon, the one who brings us to difficult experiences, to places we would rather not go. How can we understand the tasks that are given by planets in this complex house?

Bill Meridian
Recent Developments in Planetary Stock Trading
Horoscopes of incorporation and first trade are useful in stock selection. The basics will be explained. The focus will be on the earnings surprise method and the Jupiter return approach. The aim is to get an advance alert as to whether a stock will be rising or falling.

Dr. Ben Dykes
A Fast Track to Traditional Chart Reading
Learn to identify the most important chart features so you can have a meaningful conversation with a client using solid predictive techniques: sect, dignities and counter-dignities, angularity, Lots ("Arabic Parts"), special planetary configurations, basic house interpretation, and profections. Suitable for all traditional and modern astrologers.

Afternoon Workshops

Lynn Bell
The Daimon shows the Way: the 11th House
Ancient texts tell us the 11th house is the house of Agathos Daimon, the good Daimon, who comes to help find our way, and accomplish our soul's purpose. What form do the promptings of our Daimon, our spirit Guide, take, and how to build a relationship with the daimon of the 11th house.

Bill Meridian
Applied Mundane Astrology
Bill has been writing the Dell Horoscope column of mundane astrology since 1990. This workshop discusses the many mundane methods that have been found useful. Their relative importance of these methods and their application will be explained. Data collection and maintenance will be discussed. The objective is to produce accurate forecasts.

Wade Caves
Unlocking Signification: Sign and Planetary Profiling in Astrology
Deriving robust descriptive information in a chart is a symbol-rich plunge into the heart of astrological meaning. In this energising, interactive workshop, learn how to build reliable physical descriptions of persons and things from planets and signs (appearance, age, likely names, etc.), including the signification of environments and locations.

PLENARIES

Wendy Stacey
The Needs of the Many Outweigh the Needs of the Few
With the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn in Aquarius, followed by Pluto, we can expect fast and radical changes unprecedented in human history. This talk will explore the possibilities presented by this cycle and how this exciting new era will be influenced by a very different and exceptional generation.

Safron Rossi
Liquid from Heaven: the Archetypal Medial Woman as Water-bearer
Saturn's ingress into Aquarius invites an excavation of feminine images of the Aquarius archetype. This image-rich presentation will explore the archetypal medial woman who gives body to this zodiacal symbol in a new way. Figures personifying this archetype include the Grail Maiden, and Greek Kore-Virgin priestesses.

SATURDAY 27TH JUNE

PLENARY:
Bill Meridian (Carter Memorial Lecture)
The Power of Eclipses:
This lecture traces the development of eclipse analysis from Lorne Edward Johndro through Charles Jayne to the present. Jayne taught that eclipses are the most powerful element in astrology. Their influence is refined by Johndro's element of 'time orb.' The method of the determination of the birth eclipse and its associated shadow will be discussed.

Christian König
Dealing with Trauma in an Astrological Consultation
Clients frequently reveal traumas in consultation – often for the first time in their lives. How do we deal with that? In order to offer professional counselling in the future, profound psychological knowledge is essential. As a trauma therapist, Christian will provide practical tips.

TALK INFORMATION

Olga Morales
The Law of Seven
The vibratory activities of the planetary universe are governed by a law of periodicity. Everything that lives has a period of birth, growth, fruition and decline. These periods are governed by Septimal Law or the Law of Seven. How does this Law of Seven impact on the stock market and our lives?

Aswin Balaji Subramanyan
Vimsottari Dasa and Secondary Progressions
Vimsottari dasa takes the natal positions as the basis for predictions. My work based on original research will showcase how secondary progressed positions of time lords can be revealing in terms of manifesting events in a native's life. This will be a synthesis of eastern and western systems.

Izabela Podlaska-Konkel
The Dark Side of Venus
Venus in a natal chart is associated with pleasure, love, gifts and the easy life. But she also symbolises our flaws, weaknesses and imperfections concerning money, relationships and beauty. It's worth investigating our Venus and how best to handle her. We are going to see how avoid toxic relationships, how not to underestimate yourself and how not to lose money.

Richard Swatton
What is the Future: Prediction, Prognostication and Prophecy?
This talk explores how astrology works in relation to prediction, prognostication and the art of prophesy. These three facets of 'seeing into the future' are subtly different yet all possible variants in the art of astrological forecasting. Using charts of events, horary questions and nativities, we shall explore the nature and technique of seeing the future.

Dr. Ben Dykes
Advanced Traditional House Interpretation
This talk will show you the main features of traditional house interpretation, following the models set down by people like Dorotheus (and after him, al-Andarzaghar and Sahl). We will use charts to illustrate the three main components: a house and its lord, the Lot ("Arabic Part") associated with that topic, and the natural significator with its triplicity lords.

Dr. Mark Urban-Lurain
Astrological Research: Future Directions from the Machine Learning Revolution
In this talk, I will review some of the history and methodological challenges of doing quantitative astrological research, discuss the application and results of various techniques, and provide a glimpse into future directions made possible by advances in machine learning.

Ray Liu
Demystifying the Northern 7 Mansions in Chinese Astrology
Jupiter, Saturn, Neptune and Pluto are clumping in Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces in the years ahead, the signs composing the northern sky in Chinese astrology. We call it the 'intangible' place, where things unconsciously take form in reality. Where are we heading? The northern mansions in Chinese astrology will reveal the doorway.

Gali Sat Puran Livneh
Prenatal Eclipses – Understanding Your Evolutionary Path
The prenatal eclipse has an important part in our understanding of our evolutionary path. In this lecture, we'll explore what prenatal eclipses are and how to observe them in the natal chart, as well as related predictive techniques, to get a deeper understanding of ourselves and our soul's journey.

John Green
The Saturn Experience – Invocation of Always
We often use our intellect to analyse our natal planets. In this hour we will instead use the process of guided imagery to experience our personal Saturn more intuitively. Please bring along your natal chart for this guided meditation and be open to sharing your journey with the group afterwards.

Wade Caves
Sidekicks & Right-Hand (Wo)men.
Behind every hero or villain was a right-hand man or woman helping realise the dream or success (or managing catastrophic downfall!). Let's skip a level in our assessment of big names throughout history, and step into the astrological world of sidekicks and henchmen, movers and shakers in their own right.

Mark Cullen
A Disunited Kingdom
The Brexit crisis has exacerbated the social divisions in the UK everywhere, nowhere more so than in Scotland and Northern Ireland where there are now calls for a second independence referendum and a border poll. Will the UK survive the turbulent decade ahead or break-up?

Anna Estaroth
Mental Health and Astrological Healing
Humanitarian attitudes to mental health stem from Marcus Aurelius' judgement that crimes, committed while mentally ill, should avoid death sentences. We explore how the 12th house became associated with possession by witches for the early-modern astrologer/physician Richard Napier and how we heal mental stress today.

Henry Seltzer
Working with Chiron, Pluto, and Eris in Charts
This is a lecture – with an interactive component as well – about these important modern astrological archetypes that invariably go to depth, in natal placements and in transits. Example charts will also be from participants, using a live demo of astrological software, to bring up volunteer charts on the spot in order to discuss.

Dr. Frances Clynes

The Spirit of the Depths

Astrology was a fundamental building block of the psychological theories of CG Jung. Serving his 'Spirit of the Depths', he deliberately confronted his unconscious and invoked the contents of the Liber Novus, or Red Book. This presentation will look at Jung's chart and what was being activated at this time.

Lynn Bell

You Know You Want It – Sex in the Horoscope

Whether you get a lot of it or want very little to do with it, sex is a connection to desire, to pleasure, to intimacy, power, and seduction. Beyond Mars and Venus, what are the erotics of the birth chart? We will look at the 5th and 8th houses, and also invite Pluto and Lilith for a whirl.

Rod Chang

Eclipse and lunar cycle

Interpreting eclipses is an important forecasting skill. In this talk, Rod will present his eclipse study, combining Saros and lunar cycles; how to apply them to forecasting for Mundane events and personal development; and, how one can use powerful eclipses when under their influence.

Kim Farnell

Back to the Future

Fashions come and go in astrology – each innovation being hailed as astrology's future. Some techniques are long forgotten; others so familiar that we assume they were always there. We'll look at the changing face of modern astrology and how some of the forgotten techniques worked.

Omari Martin

ASTROPRENEURSHIP™

Using the natal chart(s) of the owner(s) and business, learn how to combine astrology and core business principles to start or grow a business for the professional astrologer/entrepreneur. Management, marketing, and ethical dilemmas will be discussed, as well as electional and vocational astrology.

Jane Lewis

Our Planet's Health Depends on Healing Ourselves: Astrology as a Tool for Healing

This talk offers a person-centred perspective on today's ecological and planetary crisis by examining how individuals can use spiritual understanding of their own birth charts to gain more effective personal power and deeper wisdom, thereby creating the future they want for themselves and the Earth.

Richard Smoot

Transforming Self: A Theory of Antiscia

Antiscia of a horoscope tell us that planets have a 'mirror' and a 'reflection' quality. We live through two interdependent horoscopes: our natal, social self and our antiscia, inner shadow. These worlds generally work together, yet there are times where our survival instincts need to act.

Stephanie Johnson

Around the World the Astrology Way

In today's mobile world many people travel across the globe electronically, on holiday, and to live. In this lecture Stephanie Johnson explores different astro-mapping techniques and how they can help clients, focusing on Astro*Carto*Graphy and various astrological influences.

Dr. Tom Stedall

The Value of Quantitative Astrological Research

Drawing on "Cosmos and Psyche" (Tarnas, 2006) and my work with Rupert Sheldrake, I explore the tensions between the value of quantitative research for recognising knowledge excluded by the scientific worldview, and the challenge that excluded knowledge presents to the epistemology of this worldview.

Giulio Pellegrini

Saturn, Ensoulment, and the Birth of the Etheric Body

Rudolph Steiner determined that the initial crystallization stage of childhood development takes place around age seven when Saturn forms a square to itself in the natal chart. We will show how this aspect corresponds to our mental, emotional, and spiritual development.

Jodey Collorick

Dance of the Heavens: Testimony of Radicality in Horary

All too often the newcomer to horary astrology is put off by the demonstration of weak symbolism. Within the horary tradition however there is a concept known as radicality which requires the symbolism of chart to be rooted within the question itself, bringing it alive and making it dance.

Robyn Ray

Timing Events Using Moon Phases

Why is it worth watching what is happening at every New and Full Moon? Can we begin to understand how events will play out as we watch the Moon Phases develop? What is going to be important both in our lives and in world events as they unfold?

Maria Blaquier

Family Dilemmas in a Natal Chart

Is our life entirely our own? We carry the weight of our family and cultural inheritances with us, an enormous influence in daily life. We are forced to deal with dilemmas that were transmitted to us, and if we do not solve them, they later pass on to our children. Natal charts allows us to shed light on issues left unresolved from previous generations.

David Hamblin
Astrology: Science or Divination?
David will propose that astrology is not divination but is necessarily a scientific enquiry – but not materialist science, rather the science of consciousness (the interaction between the consciousness of Earth and that of the other planets), as suggested by the work of Rupert Sheldrake.

Tim Burness
Total Transformation
As we continue to experience the seismic shifts of the 2020 triple conjunctions, where are we headed? Total transformation is required. Using a wide range of charts to explore the interconnected crises of capitalism, ecology and democracy, this talk will explore possible ways forward.

Fernanda Paiva
The Astrology of 'The Handmaid's Tale'
The TV series based on Margaret Atwood's dystopian novel portraying an oppressive totalitarian theocratic society is currently receiving great critical acclaim. With many saying that it depicts a reality not far from home, Fernanda will explore the astrology of 'The Handmaid's Tale' and discuss how we might prevent the story from becoming a reality.

SUNDAY 28TH JUNE

PLENARY:

Christian König
Fixed Stars 2.0 – Integrating the Latest Astronomical Discoveries into Astrology
The parallels between humans and the stars' astrophysical characteristics are amazing. Like us, stars are born, grow up, live their lives and then die. How can we astrologically interpret and connect with the stars, nebulae, clusters and galaxies?

Crystal Eves
Chronobiology and Astrology
All organisms have an internal clock and biological rhythms. The field that studies this is chronobiology. What may be fascinating to astrologers is how these rhythms relate to the Sun's activity. Join Crystal as she presents background information on chronobiology and shows how astrology relates to this growing field.

Anne C. Schneider
Improving Solar Return Charts by Relocation
Can we improve our lives by changing our solar return charts through relocation on our birthdays? Choosing a location different from our birth place or residence results in turned angles of return charts, resulting in a different chart. Technical and philosophical aspects of this "cosmic manipulation" will be discussed.

Susan Lionti
Are You Going to Read My Mind, Miss? Astrology for Young People
In this talk, Susan will discuss her experiences of reading charts for kids at festivals, in schools, at home, on their own and with friends and family. She'll look at the rewards and impact that these consultations can have, as well as the challenges they can pose.

Kieron Devlin
Reclaiming the Muses through Asteroid Astrology
The nine Greek muses are not dead, their arts can be re-invoked using asteroid astrology. Muses are channels of creativity, preservers of culture and relate to the Golden Mean ratio. Find out which specific artistic talent the muses may highlight in your chart.

Jadranka Coic
Almuten: Who is in charge?
The Latin translation of "almuten" from the Arabic means "victor". A planet that has the most dignity in any specific degree of the zodiac is considered the almuten of that degree and can be the key planet for the whole chart or a particular house. Understanding almutens helps us understand the chart better, whether natal or horary.

Safron Rossi
Serving the Grail: Sun and Saturn
Saturn's ingress into Aquarius invites reflection on the theme of the individual spirit in service to collective vision. This presentation will explore the archetypal polarity of the individual and collective through the mythic motif of the Grail wherein the symbolism and psychology of the Leo-Aquarius axis is embedded.

Omari Martin
Electional Astrology
The presentation focuses on practical application of Electional Astrology, which will be demonstrated through sample charts, such as winning the lottery. The importance of analyzing the planetary aspects and declinations of an electional chart in relation to the natal chart will be emphasized. Planetary rulerships will be discussed too.

Lara van Zuydam
The Rise of Cryptocurrency: Astrology and Energy
Exchange during the Fourth Industrial Revolution We are living through a period of unprecedented changes in the arenas of currency and financial technology. What insights does the venerable art of astrology afford us into Bitcoin, Blockchain and Facebook's Libra? And what lies ahead?

Cathy Stronach
Astrology and the Tree of Life
The Tree of Life contains astrological keys and planetary powerhouses that unlock deeper meaning and reveal further correspondences. In this talk I will explore some of those meanings and explain how to place your natal chart and draconic chart upon the Tree of Life to gain a different perspective.

Jupiter Lai
How Successful People Turn Debility into Achievement
Planets in debility (like fall and detriment) are usually viewed as being incapable and weak, which could be blockages to success. And yet, successful entrepreneurs and celebrities do have debilitated planets in their charts. In this talk, we are going to study how they turn their weakness into traits and skills which contribute to their achievement.

Leigh Weston
That Declination Difference
Based on the creation symbol and Earth's dynamics, declination shown in visual astronomy offers a stunning precision of our chaotic world, often unattainable in longitude. Delineated techniques offer insight of north versus south parallels, the surprising effects of antiscia, the power points, and the manifestation degree.

Ray Liu
Is Saturn Always the Problem? Get Rid of It or Lay a Foundation?
In China, Saturn is called the planet of earth. 2020 and 2021 are two years of earth, so Saturn is going to be overwhelming, moving back and forth in the Mansion Niu and Mansion Nv. From the Chinese view, how can we work with this Saturn in a constructive way?

Dr. Jan Seward
The Dance of Gender: Issues of Gender Identity as Signified in the Birth Chart
As issues of gender and identity become more fluid, what are the significators in a birth chart that might point to these issues and their resolution? The presenter, the mother of a transgender son and researcher of birth charts of gender-questioning individuals, will present her findings and questions for further study.

João Medeiros
Applying Aspects in Natal Astrology
Applying aspects of the luminaries in Natal Astrology are normally overlooked. However, they are fundamental in understanding the flow of life, the proposed destiny and our greatest challenges. In this talk, João Medeiros will summarize the results of his research with examples.

Gill Dorren
Quantum Astrology
The Theory of Everything is the Holy Grail of physics but has been, thus far, elusive. Can astrology be of service and try and solve the conundrum? Using the elements and the planets, I will put forward the astrological theory of everything, and discuss how astrology can describe other quantum phenomena.

Dr. Ben Dykes
A Traditional Approach to Lots ("Arabic Parts")
This talk will explain the theory and practice of Lots in traditional natal astrology, focusing on the Lots of Fortune, the father, mother, marriage, and children.

Olga Morales
The Astrological Trading Methods of W.D. Gann
W.D. Gann was a legendary Wall St trader who discovered that planetary cycles influence speculative markets. He had many horoscopes for commodities which he used for forecasting future trends. Gann's most ingenious discovery was that not only do planets give us time, but they also give us potential price levels!

Aswin Balaji Subramanyan
Medieval Solar Revolutions
Persians gave a lot of nuance in the working of solar revolutions (returns) using profections, primary directions and firdaria which can be a bit overwhelming. I will showcase the usage of all the techniques with a proper sequential pattern to make it easy for astrologers in practice.

Robyn Ray
The Benefit of Becoming an Ephemeris Geek
In this day of online availability on every aspect of astrology, are we missing the very real benefit for an astrologer to fully understand and use a tangible ephemeris. What is a student missing by relying solely on the internet?

Ryuji Kagami
Jung's Prophecy: From Pisces to the Age of Pegasus
Carl Jung's study of Precession and the Age of Pisces is well known but his astrological imagination went far beyond zodiac constellations. He used other fixed star constellations, too, including Perseus and Pegasus! What is the future of the spirit that Jung saw in the stars?

Richard Smoot
I've Got a Feeling: First Impressions in Horoscope Judgment
Who is this person behind the chart and how do I begin to piece my understanding of the person and the chart together? First impression judgments of the horoscope can provide the answers you need to gain an understanding of your client's personal style.

Dr. Mark Urban-Lurain
Beyond p-values: Implications for Future Astrological Research
The American Statistical Association, the largest statistical professional organization in the U.S., recently identified six principles on the proper use of p-values. In this talk I introduce these six principles along with the implications for conducting statistical astrological research.

TALK INFORMATION

Rod Chang

Aspect Patterns Made Easy

T-square, Kite, Yod – these magical names draw our attention, as astrologers, but how to interpret them is challenging for beginners. In this talk, Rod shares his simple method to break down complicated aspect patterns and weave them together again to understand how they influence us.

Martin Sebastian Moritz

The Future is Fluid: Gender Bending and the Dark Moon Lilith

Patriachic gender role expectations dominate the world. Women find themselves at odds with 'forbidden' female facets while men must suppress any 'weak' traits of their yin side. Will the future still be a strictly conventional gender binary world, where kids can only be princesses or super heroes?

Christina Rodenbeck

Gen Z

Pluto was in Sagittarius, a marker of Generation Z, a generation is precociously politically active. Malala Yousafzai, Greta Thunberg, Joshua Wong, Parkland youth — all were all born with this signature. With serious global issues to tackle, how will this generation rise to the challenge? And how can their elders assist in creating their future?

Last year's fancy dress party
